OUR COMMITMENT

The College of Nurses of Ontario (CNO) is committed to treating all people in a way that allows them to maintain their dignity and independence. Building on CNO's Providing Goods and Services to People with Disabilities policy, we believe in integration and equal opportunity. We will continue to meet the needs of people with disabilities in a timely manner by preventing and removing barriers to accessibility and by meeting our obligations under the Accessibility Standards for Customer Service and Integrated Accessibility Standards of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005 (AODA).

OUR PLAN

The College of Nurses of Ontario (CNO)'s multi-year accessibility plan outlines the steps CNO will take to provide inclusive and accessible services to our members, applicants, employees, and the general public.

CNO's plan addresses the identification and removal of barriers to accessibility in the following areas:

- Customer Service
- Information and Communications
- Employment
- Design of Public Spaces

As part of our plan, we engage in a proactive regular review of our policies to ensure that all barriers to accessibility are removed and additional features related to accessibility are incorporated into existing or new policies.

The plan will be formally reviewed every five years, but we will update the plan as needed to ensure ongoing compliance with accessibility laws. In addition, we will report our achievements in enhancing accessibility through updates on our website, www.cno.org.

In 2005, the Ontario government passed the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). This legislation is designed to enhance the participation of persons with disabilities in all aspects of life in Ontario through the identification, removal and prevention of barriers to access.

CUSTOMER SERVICE

CNO is committed to providing people with disabilities the same opportunity to access our goods and services and allowing them to benefit from the same services, in the same place and in a similar way as other members of the public. We interact with customers every day: applicants for registration, members of CNO, and the general public. In addition to engaging with customers over the phone, mail or email, we have a customer service desk where individuals may appear in person to request information about CNO's processes or obtain assistance.

On January 1, 2012, CNO implemented its policy "Providing Goods and Services to People with Disabilities" to guide our approach to accessible customer service.

We are committed to ongoing compliance with the requirements of the Accessibility Standards for Customer Service by:

- Reviewing and updating our policies regularly to remove barriers and facilitate accessible customer service practices
- Incorporating customer feedback into our processes
- Ensuring that all new and existing employees receive training and orientation on providing service to people with disabilities

OUR ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

All employees as of January 1, 2012 were provided with orientation on the requirements of the AODA Customer Service Standard and our policies on accessible customer service. This training included a review of the on-line learning module "Serve-Ability: Transforming Ontario's Customer Service" and an overview of the assistive devices available on CNO's premises.

Training on the Accessibility Standards for Customer Service, Information and Communications, Employment, Design of Public Spaces, General Requirements, and the Human Rights Code have been incorporated into our new hire orientation.

TRAINING

CNO is committed to ensuring that all employees, volunteers and other individuals providing services on behalf of CNO receive training on the requirements in the Integrated Accessibility Standards Regulation under the AODA and on the Human Rights Code as it relates to people with disabilities. Training will be provided in a way that best suits the duties of the individual with accessibility in mind.

As of January 1, 2015, CNO has taken the following steps to meet this commitment:

- Utilized on-line learning modules on the AODA to train all employees;
- Ensured that existing employees and other individuals providing services on behalf of CNO received appropriate training by December 31, 2014;
- Incorporated training on the Human Rights Code and requirements of the AODA as they apply to our organization into the new hire orientation plan;
- Require employees to annually review CNO's policies relating to accessibility and the accommodation of individuals with disabilities; and
- Provided training on the requirements of the AODA and Human Rights Code as it pertains to the individual's duties and persons with disabilities to:
  - all employees; and
  - members of CNO's Council and committees as part of new member and annual orientation.

The Integrated Accessibility Standards Regulation (IASR) became law in 2011. It consists of over 75 requirements to remove barriers in the areas of information and communication, employment, transportation, and public spaces.

Providing training on the AODA and the Human Rights Code is one of the legal requirements.

INFORMATION AND COMMUNICATIONS

CNO is committed to meeting the communication needs of people with disabilities. We will consult with people with disabilities to determine their information and communication needs.

As of January 1, 2015, all existing feedback processes are accessible to people with disabilities by providing or arranging for accessible formats and communication supports upon request.

CNO has also taken the following steps to ensure that we provide accessible formats and communication supports for people with disabilities upon request:

- Consult with the person making the request to determine the suitability of the accessible format or communication support
- Provide or arrange for the provision of the accessible format or communication support in a timely manner and at a cost no more than that charged to other persons
- Notify the public of the availability of accessible formats and communication supports

By January 1, 2022, CNO's website and its content will conform to WCAG 2.0, Level AA. For information about WCAG, visit www.w3.org/TR/WCAG20.

CNO's current website was launched in October 2010 and conforms to WCAG 2.0, Level A.

We can make documents accessible by recreating them in different formats:

- printing in large print
- reading aloud
- using written notes
- adding captioning to videos

EMPLOYMENT

As of January 1, 2012, CNO put in place a process to address the needs of employees with disabilities in the event of an emergency. Employees with disabilities are provided with individualized, accessible emergency response information when needed.

CNO is also committed to ensuring fair and accessible employment practices across all stages of the employment life cycle to allow employees to reach their full potential.

We will take the following steps by January 1, 2016 to accommodate people with disabilities during the recruitment, assessment and hiring processes:

- Include reference to our accommodation policy in job postings and on CNO's website under the careers section
- Review our current recruitment policies and making changes as needed to enhance accessibility
- Remove barriers from job postings, including ensuring that they are in clear language
- Advise applicants about the availability of accommodations if needed during the recruitment process
- Consult with job applicants who request accommodations during the recruitment process in order to support them in relation to the materials or process used
- Notify successful candidates of our accommodation policies when offering employment

By January 1, 2016, we will also take the following steps to ensure the accessibility needs of employees with disabilities are taken into account:

- New employees will be provided with information regarding our policies for accommodation of employees with disabilities as part of the orientation plan
- Policies regarding the provision of accommodations for employees with disabilities will be posted on CNO's intranet and any changes to these policies will be communicated to employees when they occur
- Where requested, employees with disabilities will be provided with accessible formats and communication supports as needed in order to perform their job. We will consult with the employee to determine the most suitable supports

- CNO will develop a written process for the development of documented individual accommodation plans, which will include:
  - How an employee can participate in the development of the plan;
  - How the employee will be assessed on an individual basis;
  - The manner in which the employer may request an evaluation by outside medical or other experts to determine if and how accommodation can be achieved;
  - How the employee may obtain assistance from a representative from the workplace in the development of the plan;
  - The steps taken to protect the privacy of the employee's personal information;
  - The frequency with which the plan will be reviewed and updated and how it will be done;
  - The manner in which reasons for denial, if any, will be provided; and
  - How the plan will be provided to the employee in a way that takes into account the employees accessibility needs
- Individual accommodation plans will include, if requested, information regarding accessible formats and communication supports provided, individualized workplace emergency response information, and any other accommodation that is to be provided
- CNO will have in place a documented return to work process for its employees who have been absent from work due to a disability and are returning with disability-related accommodations
- Performance management and career development and advancement will take into account the needs of employees with disabilities
- Managers will be provided with guidance on:
  - Understanding and accommodating various types of disabilities and their impact on work performance
  - Understanding employer obligations to provide employment accommodation

FEEDBACK

CNO is committed to making accessibility throughout the organization a reality. Many of our initiatives are in full motion and more are on the way.

We would like to hear from you.

We welcome any comments and suggestions about the manner in which CNO provides its services, including whether our services were accessible.

A proposed Accessibility Standard for the Built Environment is not yet law. It will establish requirements for identifying, removing and preventing barriers to accessibility in public spaces across Ontario.

When this standard is finalized, CNO will ensure that it complies with any applicable requirements.

Since 1985 when 101 Davenport Road was first constructed, CNO has been ahead of accessibility requirements and each renovation incorporates accessibility features when applicable.
